

BECOME A LEADER IN HOLOCAUST EDUCATION

ATTEND THE MUSEUM TEACHER FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum's 16th Museum Teacher Fellowship Program is designed to immerse participants in advanced historical and pedagogical issues relating to the Holocaust.

What does the Fellowship offer? Join the program's exclusive national corps of skilled teachers who serve as leaders in Holocaust education in their schools, communities, and professional organizations. This year, up to 15 Museum Fellows will be selected to participate in the five-day program at the Museum in Washington, DC, July 15–20, 2012. All expenses for travel and living accommodations are included. After the intensive summer program, Fellows return home and create outreach projects to advance Holocaust education in their communities. In July 2013, Fellows attend a follow-up program at the Museum to assess their progress and continue their Holocaust studies.

Who is eligible? Secondary school (7th–12th grade) and community college history, social studies, foreign-language, and English teachers, librarians, and instructional media specialists, who have an extensive knowledge of Holocaust history, have taught the Holocaust for at least five years in U.S. schools, and are active participants in community and professional organizations, may apply. (Educators with less than five years' experience teaching about the Holocaust should apply to the Museum's Belfer Conference.)

How do I apply? Call Peter J. Fredlake, Director, National Outreach for Teacher Initiatives, at 202.314.0352; fax 202.314.7888; e-mail pfredlake@ushmm.org; or write to the address below. To download an application and for more information, visit the Museum's Web site at ushmm.org, under "Education" go to "For Teachers" and then "Fellowships."

Applications must be submitted or postmarked by February 10, 2012.

The Teacher Fellowship Program is made possible, in part, by donations from the Jan M. and Eugenia Krol Charitable Foundation; Louis F. Smith; David Bruce Smith; Leichtag Family Foundation of the Jewish Community Foundation of San Diego; Henry H. and Carol Brown Goldberg; and the Pines, Sarna, and Statfeld Families.

Children learn Hebrew in a displaced persons camp in Switzerland, 1945. Beth Hatefutsotb

- Washington, DC
- July 15–20, 2012
- For Middle and High School Educators and Community College Faculty
- All Expenses Paid
- Share ideas and create lesson plans with other experienced teachers of the Holocaust.
- Explore the Museum's extensive resources.
- Interact with Holocaust survivors and Museum curators, educators, historians, librarians, and photo and document archivists.
- Work with diverse educational media—lectures, videos, feature films, oral histories, and artifacts.
- Tour the Museum's exhibitions and visit the behind-the-scenes collections.

UNITED STATES
HOLOCAUST
MEMORIAL
MUSEUM

NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR HOLOCAUST EDUCATION