Letter from the director

Giving and enjoying stable income

Legacy of Light Society names new chair

Save the date for A Day at the Museum
October 26

Upcoming exhibitions

INSIDE

“The camp is filthy beyond description. Sanitation is virtually unknown. Words fail me when I try to think of an adequate description. The people of the camp themselves appear demoralized beyond hope of rehabilitation. They appear to be beaten both spiritually and physically, with no hopes or incentives for the future…”

These words were written in September, 1945 by Col. Irving Heymont to his wife Joan, describing the conditions at the Landsberg Displaced Persons Camp, the largest DP camp in Europe. At the young age of 27, he was tasked with serving as its commander, providing the survivors with the opportunity to regain their dignity and self-determination.

Many years later, Heymont concluded that “the few months I spent at Landsberg had a greater impact on my outlook on life than any other experience in my career.” He learned that “despite the deepest inhumanity suffered, the spirit of a people to survive and recover cannot be crushed.” The town of Landsberg and its history continued to play a significant role in his life, and in 1989 they honored him by naming a street Irving-Heymont Strasse.

Col. Heymont was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action in 1945, one of his numerous decorations. He and his late wife Joan had two children, eight grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Because of his deep connection with the Holocaust and its aftermath, he always felt passionate about the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum’s mission, believing that we all have a responsibility to teach this history. Heymont chose to support the Museum’s efforts by contributing photographs and oral testimony to the Museum’s collection. He also established three charitable gift annuities that provided him with steady income and other tax benefits during his lifetime and, following his death on March 17, 2009 at age 90, will now support the Museum’s endowment. In this way, Irving Heymont’s extraordinary legacy lives on.

Q. How secure are my payments?
A. The Museum follows the annuity rates promulgated by the American Council on Gift Annuities. The rates anticipate that in addition to earnings on any annuity funds, approximately one-half of the amount contributed will be returned over time to the annuity payment recipients. Payments are made from the funds that are contributed and administered by State Street Global Advisors, the Museum’s charitable gift annuity custodian. The assets of the Museum stand behind gift annuity payment obligations.

For a complete listing of events or to view the exhibitions online, please visit ushmm.org.

Honor the last generation. Educate the next.

Generations

The Planned Giving Newsletter of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum

Stable Income... continued from page 1

Museum Exhibitions Around the Country

November 13, 2009-February 1, 2010

November 27, 2009-January 27, 2010

October 9-December 4, 2009

Deadly Medicine: Creating the Master Race

University of Louisville, Komhauser Health Science Library

Fighting the Fires of Hate: America and the Nazi Book Burnings

Vespasian Warner Public Library

Nazi Persecution of Homosexuals, 1933-1945

William Way Community Center

An Unassuming Hero’s Legacy

“The camp is fifty beyond description. Sanitation is virtually unknown. Words fail me when I try to think of an adequate description. The people of the camp themselves appear demoralized beyond hope of rehabilitation. They appear to be beaten both spiritually and physically, with no hopes or incentives for the future…”

These words were written in September, 1945 by Col. Irving Heymont to his wife Joan, describing the conditions at the Landsberg Displaced Persons Camp, the largest DP camp in Europe. At the young age of 27, he was tasked with serving as its commander, providing the survivors with the opportunity to regain their dignity and self-determination.

Many years later, Heymont concluded that “the few months I spent at Landsberg had a greater impact on my outlook on life than any other experience in my career.” He learned that “despite the deepest inhumanity suffered, the spirit of a people to survive and recover cannot be crushed.” The town of Landsberg and its history continued to play a significant role in his life, and in 1989 they honored him by naming a street Irving-Heymont Strasse.

Col. Heymont was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action in 1945, one of his numerous decorations. He and his late wife Joan had two children, eight grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Because of his deep connection with the Holocaust and its aftermath, he always felt passionate about the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum’s mission, believing that we all have a responsibility to teach this history. Heymont chose to support the Museum’s efforts by contributing photographs and oral testimony to the Museum’s collection. He also established three charitable gift annuities that provided him with steady income and other tax benefits during his lifetime and, following his death on March 17, 2009 at age 90, will now support the Museum’s endowment. In this way, Irving Heymont’s extraordinary legacy lives on.

Q. How secure are my payments?
A. The Museum follows the annuity rates promulgated by the American Council on Gift Annuities. The rates anticipate that in addition to earnings on any annuity funds, approximately one-half of the amount contributed will be returned over time to the annuity payment recipients. Payments are made from the funds that are contributed and administered by State Street Global Advisors, the Museum’s charitable gift annuity custodian. The assets of the Museum stand behind gift annuity payment obligations.

For a complete listing of events or to view the exhibitions online, please visit ushmm.org.

Honor the last generation. Educate the next.
Gift Annuities: A Creative Way to Give and Enjoy Stable Income

Many United States Holocaust Memorial Museum supporters have discovered the benefits of charitable gift annuities. Senior Planned Giving Officer Naomi Koosman has worked with many individuals who have given in this way. Below are a number of questions she is often asked about gift annuities. Call us at (202) 482-4660 or e-mail us at info@ushmm.org if you have other questions, or return the attached card for a personalized illustration of the tax and other benefits of a charitable gift annuity for you.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.

A.

Q.
Gift Annuities: A Creative Way to Give and Enjoy Stable Income

Many United States Holocaust Memorial Museum supporters have discovered the benefits of charitable gift annuities. Senior Planned Giving Officer Naomi Katz has worked with many individuals who have given in this way. Below are a number of questions she is often asked about gift annuities. Call Naomi at 202-482-6861 or e-mail her at nkatz@ushmm.org if you have other questions, or return the attached card for a personal illustration of the tax and other benefits of a charitable gift annuity for you.

Q. How does a gift annuity work?
A. A supporter simply transfers cash or other appropriate assets to the Museum, and in return receives guaranteed fixed payments for the rest of his or her lifetime. Payments are determined based on age, payment rate, and other factors.

Q. Will my payments change from year to year?
A. No, the amount of your payment is set when your annuity begins.

Q. Am I responsible for the income?
A. Yes. You can be a combination of income, capital gain, and estate tax savings.

Q. Can more than one person receive payments?
A. Yes, two people can receive payments from a particular gift annuity. You can designate others to receive payments either with you, instead of you, or after your lifetime.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?
A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be taxed more favorably than other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because you avoid the tax on a portion of the capital gain in the property.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?
A. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be taxed more favorably than other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because you avoid the tax on a portion of the capital gain in the property.

Q. What are the benefits of a charitable gift annuity?
A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be taxed more favorably than other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because you avoid the tax on a portion of the capital gain in the property.

Q. How do I receive payments?
A. A supporter simply transfers cash or other appropriate assets to the Museum, and in return receives guaranteed fixed payments for the rest of his or her lifetime. Payments are determined based on age, payment rate, and other factors.

Q. Will my payments change from year to year?
A. No, the amount of your payment is set when your annuity begins.

Q. Am I responsible for the income?
A. Yes. You can be a combination of income, capital gain, and estate tax savings.

Q. Can more than one person receive payments?
A. Yes, two people can receive payments from a particular gift annuity. You can designate others to receive payments either with you, instead of you, or after your lifetime.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?
A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be taxed more favorably than other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because you avoid the tax on a portion of the capital gain in the property.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?
A. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be taxed more favorably than other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because you avoid the tax on a portion of the capital gain in the property.

Q. How do I receive payments?
A. A supporter simply transfers cash or other appropriate assets to the Museum, and in return receives guaranteed fixed payments for the rest of his or her lifetime. Payments are determined based on age, payment rate, and other factors.

Q. Will my payments change from year to year?
A. No, the amount of your payment is set when your annuity begins.

Q. Am I responsible for the income?
A. Yes. You can be a combination of income, capital gain, and estate tax savings.

Q. Can more than one person receive payments?
A. Yes, two people can receive payments from a particular gift annuity. You can designate others to receive payments either with you, instead of you, or after your lifetime.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?
A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be taxed more favorably than other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because you avoid the tax on a portion of the capital gain in the property.

Q. How do I receive payments?
A. A supporter simply transfers cash or other appropriate assets to the Museum, and in return receives guaranteed fixed payments for the rest of his or her lifetime. Payments are determined based on age, payment rate, and other factors.

Q. Will my payments change from year to year?
A. No, the amount of your payment is set when your annuity begins.

Q. Am I responsible for the income?
A. Yes. You can be a combination of income, capital gain, and estate tax savings.

Q. Can more than one person receive payments?
A. Yes, two people can receive payments from a particular gift annuity. You can designate others to receive payments either with you, instead of you, or after your lifetime.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?
A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be taxed more favorably than other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because you avoid the tax on a portion of the capital gain in the property.

Gift Annuities: A Creative Way to Give and Enjoy Stable Income

Many United States Holocaust Memorial Museum supporters have discovered the benefits of charitable gift annuities. Senior Planned Giving Officer Naomi Katz has worked with many individuals who have given in this way. Below are a number of questions she is often asked about gift annuities. Call Naomi at 202-482-6861 or e-mail her at nkatz@ushmm.org if you have other questions, or return the attached card for a personal illustration of the tax and other benefits of a charitable gift annuity for you.

Q. How does a gift annuity work?
A. A supporter simply transfers cash or other appropriate assets to the Museum, and in return receives guaranteed fixed payments for the rest of his or her lifetime. Payments are determined based on age, payment rate, and other factors.

Q. Will my payments change from year to year?
A. No, the amount of your payment is set when your annuity begins.

Q. Am I responsible for the income?
A. Yes. You can be a combination of income, capital gain, and estate tax savings.

Q. Can more than one person receive payments?
A. Yes, two people can receive payments from a particular gift annuity. You can designate others to receive payments either with you, instead of you, or after your lifetime.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?
A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be taxed more favorably than other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because you avoid the tax on a portion of the capital gain in the property.

Q. How do I receive payments?
A. A supporter simply transfers cash or other appropriate assets to the Museum, and in return receives guaranteed fixed payments for the rest of his or her lifetime. Payments are determined based on age, payment rate, and other factors.

Q. Will my payments change from year to year?
A. No, the amount of your payment is set when your annuity begins.

Q. Am I responsible for the income?
A. Yes. You can be a combination of income, capital gain, and estate tax savings.

Q. Can more than one person receive payments?
A. Yes, two people can receive payments from a particular gift annuity. You can designate others to receive payments either with you, instead of you, or after your lifetime.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?
A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be taxed more favorably than other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because you avoid the tax on a portion of the capital gain in the property.

Q. How do I receive payments?
A. A supporter simply transfers cash or other appropriate assets to the Museum, and in return receives guaranteed fixed payments for the rest of his or her lifetime. Payments are determined based on age, payment rate, and other factors.

Q. Will my payments change from year to year?
A. No, the amount of your payment is set when your annuity begins.

Q. Am I responsible for the income?
A. Yes. You can be a combination of income, capital gain, and estate tax savings.

Q. Can more than one person receive payments?
A. Yes, two people can receive payments from a particular gift annuity. You can designate others to receive payments either with you, instead of you, or after your lifetime.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?
A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be taxed more favorably than other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because you avoid the tax on a portion of the capital gain in the property.
Letter from the director

Stable Income...

continued from page 1

6. How secure are my payments?

The Museum follows the annuity rates promulgated by the American Council on Gift Annuities. The rate anticipate that in addition to earnings on any annuity funds, approximately one-half of the amount contributed will be returned over time to the annuity payment recipients. Payments are made from the funds that are contributed and administered by State Street Global Advisors, the Museum’s charitable gift annuity custodian. The assets of the Museum stand behind gift annuity payment obligations.

Museum Exhibitions Around the Country

Historical Images at the Museum

- Louisville, Kentucky
  - University of Louisville, Kosair Charities Health Science Library
    - November 13, 2009-February 1, 2010
- Clinton, Illinois
  - Simpson Library, Public Library
    - December 3, 2009-January 31, 2010
- Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
  - William Way Community Center
    - December 9, 2009-February 5, 2010

For a complete listing of events or to view the exhibitions online, please visit www.ushmm.org.

Hero’s Legacy...

continued from page 1

always felt passionate about the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum’s mission, believing that we all have a responsibility to teach this history. Heymont chose to support the Museum’s efforts by contributing photographs and oral testimony to the Museum’s collection.

He also established three charitable gift annuities that provided him with steady income and other tax benefits during his lifetime and, following his death on March 17, 2009 at age 90, will now support the Museum’s endowment. In this way, Irving Heymont’s extraordinary legacy lives on.

Many years later, Heymont concluded that “the few months I spent at Landsberg had a greater impact on my outlook on life than any other experience in my career.” He learned that “despite the deepest inhumanity suffered, the spirit of a people to survive and recover cannot be crushed.” The town of Landsberg and its history continued to play a significant role in his life, and in 1989 they honored him by naming a street Irving-Heymont Strasse.

Col. Heymont was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action in 1945, one of his numerous decorations. He and his late wife Joan had two children, eight grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Because of his deep connection with the Holocaust and its aftermath, he...
Letter from the director

Stable Income...

continued from page 1

6. How secure are my payments?

A. The Museum follows the annuity rate promulgated by the American Council on Gift Annuities. The rate anticipates that in addition to earnings on any annuity funds, approximately one-half of the amount contributed will be retained over time to the annuity payment recipients. Payments are made from the funds that are contributed and administered by State Street Global Advisors, the Museum’s charitable gift annuity custodian. The assets of the Museum stand behind gift annuity payment obligations.

Museum Exhibitions

Around the Country

Fighting the Fires of Hate: America and the Nazi Book Burnings

Clinton, Illinois

Stephen White Public Library

December 9, 2009-January 27, 2010

Fighting the Fires of Hate: America and the Nazi Book Burnings

clinton, Illinois

Vespasian Warner Public Library

December 9, 2009-January 27, 2010

Nazi Persecution of Homosexuals 1933-1945

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

William Way Community Center

October 9-December 4, 2009

Deadly Medicine: Creating the Master Race

Louisville, Kentucky

University of Louisville, Komhauser Health Science Library

November 13, 2009-February 1, 2010

Hero’s Legacy...

continued from page 1

always felt passionate about the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum’s mission, believing that we all have a responsibility to teach this history. Heymont chose to support the Museum’s efforts by contributing photographs and oral testimony to the Museum’s collection. He also established three charitable gift annuities that provided him with steady income and other tax benefits during his lifetime and, following his death on March 17, 2009 at age 90, will now support the Museum’s endowment. In this way, Irving Heymont’s extraordinary legacy lives on.

An Unassuming Hero’s Legacy

"The camp is filthy beyond description. Sanitation is virtually unknown. Words fail me when I try to think of an adequate description... the people of the camp themselves appear demoralized beyond hope of rehabilitation. They appear to be beaten both spiritually and physically, with no hopes or incentives for the future..."

These words were written in September, 1945 by Col. Irving Heymont to his wife Joan, describing the conditions at the Landsberg Displaced Persons Camp, the largest DP camp in Europe. At the young age of 27, he was tasked with serving as its commander, providing the survivors with the opportunity to regain their dignity and self-determination.

Many years later, Heymont concluded that “the few months I spent at Landsberg had a greater impact on my outlook on life than any other experience in my career.” He learned that “despite the deepest inhumanity suffered, the spirit of a people to survive and recover cannot be crushed.” The town of Landsberg and its history continued to play a significant role in his life, and in 1989 they honored him by naming a street Irving-Heymont Strasse.

Because of his deep connection with the Holocaust and its aftermath, he always felt passionate about the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum’s mission, believing that we all have a responsibility to teach this history. Heymont chose to support the Museum’s efforts by contributing photographs and oral testimony to the Museum’s collection. He also established three charitable gift annuities that provided him with steady income and other tax benefits during his lifetime and, following his death on March 17, 2009 at age 90, will now support the Museum’s endowment. In this way, Irving Heymont’s extraordinary legacy lives on.

The Museum mourns the tragic death of Officer Stephen Tyrone Johns, who died heroically in the line of duty on June 10, 2009. There are no words to express our grief over the loss of a cherished friend and colleague, who served as a special police officer at the Museum for six years.

Honor the last generation. Educate the next.
The year has been a period of tremendous change. Investment markets and asset prices have fluctuated. A new administration has taken office. Much of the future seems uncertain.

This year has also been one of great challenge and sorrow for the Museum. A worldwide act of violence, sealed by hatred, took the life of Officer Stephen Tyrone Johns on June 6, 2009, in a sacred place of memory. This incident underscores the vital importance and urgency of the Museum’s mission.

It is more important than ever that the Museum’s future be secure and its mission clearly communicated.

In this issue of Generations, we share information about how, through a charitable gift annuity, you can make a meaningful gift while preserving, or even enhancing, your financial security.

By giving in this way, you will, in effect, create an “endowment” today. A predetermined rate of payment is made to you for the rest of your lifetime. The remainder will be used to support our permanent endowment fund, which provides annual operating support for all the Museum’s endeavors.

For more information about the benefits of a charitable gift annuity, see Naomi Katz’s accompanying piece about gift annuities.

Many United States Holocaust Memorial Museum supporters have discovered the benefits of charitable gift annuities. Senior Planned Giving Officer Naomi Katz has worked with many individuals who have given in this way. Below are a number of questions she is often asked about gift annuities.

Q. Why would I consider giving in this way?

A. A supporter simply transfers cash or other appropriate assets to the Museum, and in return receives a guaranteed fixed payment for the rest of his or her lifetime. Payments are determined based on age, payment rate, and other factors.

Q. Will my payments change from year to year?

A. No, the amount of your payment is set when your annuity begins.

Q. Are there tax benefits?

A. Yes. There can be a combination of income, capital gain, and estate tax savings.

Q. Can more than one person receive payments?

A. Yes, two people can receive payments from a particular gift annuity. You can designate others to receive payments either with you, instead of you, or after your lifetime.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?

A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be less subject to capital gains tax on any other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because of the tax you avoid on the portion of the capital gain in the property.

Q. How does a gift annuity work?

A. A supporter simply transfers cash or other appropriate assets to the Museum, and in return receives a guaranteed fixed payment for the rest of his or her lifetime. Payments are determined based on age, payment rate, and other factors.

Q. Will my payments change from year to year?

A. No, the amount of your payment is set when your annuity begins.

Q. Are there tax benefits?

A. Yes. There can be a combination of income, capital gain, and estate tax savings.

Q. Can more than one person receive payments?

A. Yes, two people can receive payments from a particular gift annuity. You can designate others to receive payments either with you, instead of you, or after your lifetime.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?

A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be less subject to capital gains tax on any other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because of the tax you avoid on the portion of the capital gain in the property.

Q. How does a gift annuity work?

A. A supporter simply transfers cash or other appropriate assets to the Museum, and in return receives a guaranteed fixed payment for the rest of his or her lifetime. Payments are determined based on age, payment rate, and other factors.

Q. Will my payments change from year to year?

A. No, the amount of your payment is set when your annuity begins.

Q. Are there tax benefits?

A. Yes. There can be a combination of income, capital gain, and estate tax savings.

Q. Can more than one person receive payments?

A. Yes, two people can receive payments from a particular gift annuity. You can designate others to receive payments either with you, instead of you, or after your lifetime.

Q. Can I use low-yielding securities to fund a gift annuity?

A. Yes. This may allow you to increase your spendable income, since a gift annuity may pay more and be less subject to capital gains tax on any other income. There can be additional tax benefits if the securities have increased in value because of the tax you avoid on the portion of the capital gain in the property.