Directions: Complete the following worksheet with your group as you examine your assigned student case study.

Name of student in your case study: ____________________________________________

1. Who might be affected by the issue presented in this scenario? What might be the consequences for individuals and the community if no action is taken?

2. Why is some form of action critical at this moment in time?

3. Considering the information presented in your case study, list possible ways the student can respond to the issue at hand.

4. Who else might he/she want to notify/involve? What support would be needed?

5. What factors would he/she have to weigh in determining the best response? What might be the impact on him/her, and the community at large, for each potential response strategy?

6. Out of the possibilities on your list, which action do you think would be most effective and why?
